Online Aerospace Supplier Information System (OASIS)

With Glenair being an established AS 9100 approved company there is a requirement to share/give access to our quality management systems data with other approved customers or even suppliers.

The IAQG Online Aerospace Supplier Information System, OASIS, was developed to provide this. The ongoing data entry process is structured such that only representatives (BSI in our case) with given authority for data entry at each level are permitted to enter the data for which they are responsible.

There are multiple levels in the data entry process. At the highest level the three IAQG Sector Representatives have been given the authority and responsibility for entering the National Accreditation Bodies, (NABs), approved for their particular sector.

To use IAQG OASIS V3 you must be a registered user.
